

June 2, 2009

Joe Gillis
URS Corporation
1000 Abernathy Road
Ste. 900
Atlanta, GA 30328

Dear Joe:

I would like to congratulate you personally for successfully completing URS' Project Manager Development and Certification Program. As a Company-certified Project Manager, you have demonstrated the highest standards and achievements covering a wide range of project management skills. Your dedication to your profession is clearly evident in the work you do, and, by completing this program, you have affirmed once again your commitment to excellence.

As a professional services organization, our most valued resources are employees like you whose experience and proven abilities are key to our ongoing success. We strive to foster a culture that provides challenging projects and ample awards. We also are committed to offering training and career development opportunities that help our people gain new skills. By sharing your knowledge and project experience with other URS employees, you play a crucial role in that process.

Thank you for your support of this important program. I am confident that, through our Project Manager Certification Program and other training initiatives, we can continue to offer world-class services by some of the industry's best-trained professionals.

Sincerely,

✓ cc: Scott Mohler